A Brief Sketch of McLean County.

In presenting a short history of this county, the author regrets that, for want of time and other causes, so many of the early settlers excused themselves from the task of compiling into form the materials which are ample enough among the residents, and which form the basis of the following sketch: he has, therefore, been obliged to perform the work with as much accuracy and comprehensiveness as he could do under the pressure of other matters requiring almost his entire attention; with the kind assistance of Mr. McCullough, however, who furnished the following particulars, he trusts the matters here placed on permanent record in the County Directory will be found in the main correct and of general interest.

This county was organized under an act of the Legislature about the years 1729 or 1830, as the county seat was located at Bloomington in the year 1830. It embraced parts of De Witt, Woodford, Logan and Livingstone counties, and was itself formerly a part of Taswell county. Its present size is, from East to West 42 miles, and from North to South 32 miles, embracing about 31 Congressional Townships, or 28 Townships for the election of supervisors. The first settlers in the county were John W. Dawson, Ebenezer Rhodes and sons, Wm. Lucas, John Hendrix, Wm. Thomas, — Cox, John Benson, Wm. Hodge, James Letta, Wm. Orendorff, Thomas Orendorff, Wm. Walker, (who was in the celebrated battle of New Orleans,) Henry Little, Bailey Harbord, Matthew Harbord, Mosby Harbord, Peter McCullough and a few others, who settled in the territory now known as the county of McLean, it being named after John McLean who was Senator of the State from Shawnee Town. The county gradually increased in numbers by emigration until the year 1852, since which it has more rapidly filled up until, in the present year, the numbers are estimated to be about 30,000 souls.

The first sale of government lands for this and adjoining counties was in October 1829, and the town plat of Bloomington was laid out and sold in July 1831; the site was originally called Keg Grove, by John W. Dawson, on account of the shape of the grove of trees; it was broadly pronounced Cag Grove. Then it was changed to Blooming Grove, on account of the numberless beautiful prairie flowers, until it has, in due course become Blooming town or Bloomington.

Numerous other growing towns and villages have sprung up, among which may be named Le Roy, Lexington, Pleasant Hill, Hudson, McLean, Concord, Wilkesborough, and a few others. This county possesses but little water power, the nearest river being Mackinaw, which is a small stream running through the northern portion; there are, however, many steam flouring mills, instead of water power, in active operation.

This county is well intersected with 85 miles of railroad, the St. Louis, Alton & Chicago passing through it from Northeast to Southwest, the Illinois Central through it North and South, and the Peoria & Oquawka from East to West. The county is well watered and timbered, the lands being as fertile as any in the United States, adapted for corn and spring wheat, and, indeed cotton and tobacco have been grown, producing a quality equal to any, and is thought would pay well to cultivate.

The State Normal University is located near Bloomington, for which a large and commodious building is now in the course of erection, particulars of which will be found in another place, so that the advantages of a well settled county, possessing every facility for progress in wealth and all the comforts of life are presented to those who desire farms and wish to settle in a peaceful and prosperous community.

ILLINOIS STATE NORMAL UNIVERSITY.

By an act of the Legislature the proceeds of the College and Seminary funds of the State are appropriated to the maintenance of this Institution, the leading object of which is to prepare young men and women for teachers in the Public Schools. These funds bearing six per cent. interest produce a little less than ten thousand dollars annually.

McLean county secured the location of the University by a donation of seventy thousand dollars to erect a building, and the citizens of Bloomington added to this donation some thirty thousand more, together with one hundred and sixty acres of land for a site, valued at thirty-eight thousand dollars. Each county in the State is entitled to gratuitous instruction in the University for one student, and each Representative District is entitled to gratuitous instruction for a number of students equal to their number of Representatives, making a total of one hundred and seventy-seven students. There are now in the School one hundred.

Students seeking admission to the University should make application to the School Commissioner of the county in which they reside, and are required

(1.) To be, if males, not less than 17, and if females not less than 16 years of age.

(2.) To produce a certificate of good moral character, signed by some responsible person.

(3.) To sign a declaration of their intention to devote themselves to school-teaching in this State.

(4.) To pass a satisfactory examination, before the proper officers, in Reading, Spelling, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography and the elements of English Grammar.

The school year of forty weeks is divided into three Terms, as follows:

The first Term begins on Monday, Sept. 13, and ends Friday, Dec. 24. Fifteen weeks long.

The second Term begins Monday, January 4, and ends Friday, April 2. Thirteen weeks long.

The third Term begins Monday, April 12, and ends Friday, July 2. Twelve weeks long.

CITY OF BLOOMINGTON.

In a small book entitled "BLOOMINGTON CITY DIRECTORY FOR 1855-6," by Dr. Freese, are found some particulars of this City, which on enquiry, the author of this work finds in the main to be correct, and therefore transfers to this, the first McLean County Directory, with the assurance that it will be accepted as the best record he could obtain under the circumstances, explained in the preceding sketch of the county; omitting, however, such passages as seem irrelevant to the history, and adding a few thoughts from personal observation. Dr. Freese commences matters of fact with the poetic line

"Westward the star of Empire takes its way."

And then proceeds to say:

"Scarce thirty years ago, the spot on which now stands the beautiful and thriving city of Bloomington, was a wild, unbroken prairie; and was purchased of the U. S. Government, by our worthy and highly esteemed citizen, Jas. Allin, Sen., at $1.25 per acre. At the session of the Illinois Legislature, 1830-31, he succeeded in getting a bill passed for the then new county of McLean, with such boundaries as to make this spot the most feasible for the county seat. When the Commissioners came on to lay off the new county, Mr. Allin proposed to donate to the county about 30 acres for the county seat, which proposition was accepted and the town located.

A public sale took place on the 4th of July, 1831, at which time a large number of lots were disposed of, at prices varying from $5 to $50. This was the first celebration of the glorious Fourth ever held in Bloomington, and we 'guess,' as the Yankees say, that a number of our now wealthy citizens have never regretted that they took part therein; as many of the lots which then sold for from 5 to 50 dollars are now worth, and are selling, at from 500 to 3,000 dollars.

The courts were first held in a small room in one end of Mr. Allin's log house, and then in a little frame building erected on the public square for that purpose, until 1836, when the present brick court house was erected at a cost of about $8,500. The court house since then has undergone frequent repairs, adding considerably to its beauty, and making its present cost much above these figures.

Messrs. Allin, Evans, Dimmett, Larrison, Baker, Gridley, McKisson and Covell may be considered the first settlers of Bloomington, all of whom, except Covell, are still residents of our city, having lived to witness its wonderful growth and prosperity.

The first store in Bloomington was commenced by James Allin, Sen., in 1829, in a log cabin near the corner of our present East and Grove streets. Many of his customers were Indians from the surrounding groves. Up to 1840 there were only 6 small stores in the place, while at this time we can boast of as many fine brick store houses and thrifty merchants as any city of like size in the United States.

The first brick building in the town was erected by James Allin, Sen., in 1839, at the corner of Centre and Front streets. Now they are scattered all over the whole city, and many of them, both private residences and blocks of stores, would do honor to cities of a "larger growth."

The first steam mill in Bloomington was built by Mr. Chase, of Cincinnati, in 1835. We now have 8 steam mills in operation, all doing a profitable business.

The Indian war which broke out in 1832 created a good deal of excitement in the town and county, and a company of volunteers was raised here for the war, of which Gen. Covell was the Captain, Gen. A. Gridley, 1st Lieutenant and M. Baldwin, 2d Lieutenant. Other than this, very little excitement of any kind was known to disturb the peace and quiet of the then little town. The few inhabitants that were then here were at peace with each other; the soil produced bountifully; produce of all kinds could be had in abundance at a "mere song;" and, as one of the old citizens expressed it, they were enjoying a "little heaven upon earth," when, all of a sudden, the "steam horse" burst upon them; the Goths and Vandals of the East came rushing in; property changed hands; log cabins and little frame houses gave place to large and beautiful residences; flower gardens and tastefully arranged shrubberies were desecrated with the erection of large blocks of three-storied brick stores; and the very earth seemed to tremble with the heavy march of improvement!

These improvements caused a great advance in all kinds of produce, and is of course attributable to the facts of increased population and railroad facilities for shipment. In early times the only way for farmers of this county to get money, was to cart a load of wheat about 40 miles to Pekin, on the Illinois river. Then nothing but wheat would bring cash—all other kinds of produce had to be traded for store goods at tremendous big prices. Many of our more wealthy farmers, however, did not pretend to sell their grain; but would feed it up to stock, for which, when grown and driven to Chicago or further east they got cash. Now all kinds of grain and produce sells here readily for cash, and buyers are willing and anxious to purchase at good living prices.

The following table will show the increase of inhabitants in Bloomington from time to time:

In 1834,	census taken by Allen Withers, Esq.,	contained.....	180
1837,	"	"	450
1845,	J. E. Parke,	"	800
1850,	Wm. McCullough,	"	1,611
1855,	E. B. Mitchell,	"	5,000
1850,	John Dawson,	"	8,000

In 1850 the citizens thought it expedient to have a city organization. To get a city charter required a population of at least 1,500 inhabitants. The census was taken and the town found to contain, as above stated, 1,611 souls, whereupon a charter was obtained, and the requisite officers elected.

To the building of the two railroads (which intersect each other at this point) may be mostly attributed to the recent rapid growth of our city. It is true that the place was in a healthy, growing condition prior to their commencement; but not until they were commenced and completed did it assume the rapid growth and importance which it has attained.

The surveys for the Illinois Central Railroad commenced at this point in 1851. In the spring of 1852 the work commenced, and in June, 1853, the cars were running south to this point. It was expected that the machine shops of the Central road would be located here; but the Company subsequently determined to build them at Wapella, and consequently only a passenger house, freight house, &c., were erected here.

In the spring of 1852 the surveys for the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis Railroad were made through this county, and in the fall of the same year the work commenced thereon near this place. In the fall of 1853 the cars were running from Springfield here, and in the spring of 1854 the road was completed through from Alton to Joliet, making a complete and speedy connection between St. Louis and Chicago. This being the best and most central point on the road, the Company decided to establish their machine shops and offices here, which have been and still are of very great advantage to the city; bringing, as they have, a large and valuable class of citizens to reside among us, and employing over 500 hands as conductors, engineers, machinists, laborers, &c.—Hamilton Spencer, Esq., the former Vice President and present Lessee of the road, together with all the principal officers of the road reside here, several of whom have bought and built for themselves fine residences, and are men of wealth, character and position.

We cannot close this short and hasty sketch of our city without paying a passing tribute to those who used their influence in the location of the two depots—making one on the east and the other on the west side of the city, about three-fourths of a mile apart. This wise and judicious policy has caused the city to expand towards both depots, spreading the city out over a much larger area than it otherwise would have been, and leaving uninjured the old and central portion of the city.

Take it all in all we think there is no city, of its size, in the whole Union which exceeds Bloomington. I have myself traveled through 16 States, and visited many of the principal towns and cities in each, and give it as my calm and settled conviction that in beauty of location; healthfulness of climate; richness of surrounding country; enterprise and urbanity of its citizens, there is no place in the whole United States which excels, or even equals our own beautiful city; and we venture to predict that in less than ten years from this date our city will contain a population of not less than 20,000, with Manufactories and Public Institutions equal, if not superior, to any city of like size in the mighty West!

We would have gladly stopped our little sketch at this point; but a recent fearful fire in our midst makes it our duty to record it as a part of our history, and a much to be regretted part.

On the night of Oct. 16th a fire broke out in the stable attached to the Morgan House, and before the flames could be arrested every building on the block, except the McLean County Bank, and Messrs. Dietrich & Bradner's hardware store, was laid in ruins. By it a large number of our valuable citizens was suddenly deprived of store-houses, work-shops and homes—leaving in their stead only the blackened ruins of a fearful conflagration. The loss is variously estimated at from 75,000 to 150,000 dollars. By the falling of one of the chimneys a Mr. Green was killed, and two others badly wounded.

An Ordinance has been passed preventing any but brick houses to be built upon the square; and already several of the lot owners are beginning to rebuild on the "burnt district." The probabilities are that within two years time the whole block will again be rebuilt with good and substantial brick edifices."

The author desires to add to the preceding sketch his own impression of the city of Bloomington, as a non-resident, and he trusts impartial visitor for a few weeks, and cannot but say that he finds the inhabitants courteous, kind, enterprising and pleasant in their business transactions; that in no city has he met with more generous, frank and friendly intercourse as a stranger, under the circumstances that brought him in connection with the people in their midst, and did circumstances admit of it would rejoice to become a resident among them, finding every social, religious and educational advantage, so conducive to happiness and progress in this inquiring and progressive age.

The location of the city is also very fine, being on high ground and beautifully laid out. It is a charming spot in a business point of view, high and dry, with good basements and cellars, while the surrounding country is rich in groves of trees, beautiful residences and gardens, together with the richest soil for the production of everything conducive to the wants and even luxuries of life; and in addition to this, the location of the State Normal University, the Wesleyan University and the Public Schools are an honor to the district, while the Evangelical Churches are so numerous, so well-appointed and so united in friendly intercourse, that it really adds a great charm to the location of the city. It is also observable that other buildings are in course of erection, and one large block of stores, to include a grand hotel, will eventually present a magnificent aspect to the visitor, and it is hoped will be advantageously occupied without in any way lessening the interests of other property in its vicinity. Probably with an hopeful abundant harvest, and a succession of "good times coming," this city will continue to increase, offering, as it does, such advantages to the cultivation of the soil, and possessing lines of railroad in direct communication with Chicago, St. Louis, and every town and city through the centre of the State.

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Is centrally located at Bloomington, and rendered easy of access from all parts of the State. It is under the joint patronage of the Illinois and Peoria Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who annually appoint visiting Committees to supervise the examinations and general management of the Institution, in conjunction with the Board of Trustees, thus offering to the public strong guarantees of the high moral tone of the instruction imparted within its halls.

The Religious Instruction is entirely un-sectarian; but the students are required to attend some place of evangelical public worship on the Sabbath, such as their own preferences may dictate, or their parents or guardians may designate; they are also required to attend the regular daily worship in the College Chapel.

There is a Library, open to the students free of charge, and philosophical and chemical apparatus for illustration of the Natural Sciences.

LEXINGTON.

Is a large village, well located, on the line of the St. Louis, Alton and Chicago Railroad, about sixteen miles from Bloomington, (going North.) The section and entire district is under good cultivation by a numerous and prosperous community, and bids fair to become, eventually, a place of considerable size. It has suffered somewhat lately through the pressure of the times which have so unfortunately affected the country the past two years, but with the certainty of good crops and abundant harvest, of which there is a fair prospect, the inhabitants will no doubt emerge from a temporary depression that may not, and we trust will not, again fall upon this western world. There cannot be a doubt that much of this depression has arisen from farmers and others having, in the good times of 1855-6 and 7, bought too much land, and involved themselves in responsibilities that failure of crops and depression in prices has prevented them from meeting with promptness and satisfaction, thereby involving the whole country in disaster and ruin to a considerable extent. No doubt a more healthy state of things will grow out of these disasters, and it is hoped, in future, no hazardous engagements will be entered upon, and in that case, better times will speedily prevail. These thoughts have arisen from the tone of despondency indulged in by the store keepers here, on the occasion of the author's visit in June, which, however, a little extra determination to overcome generally by all and forbearance in some cases, will yet cause this beautiful country to become still more productive, and the aspect of things to assume all the beauty of its developed resources which it is so well calculated to display.

The village is well supplied with educational, social and religious institutions, and offers, to those who desire to locate here, all they can require conducive to the well-being of themselves and their families.

LEROY.

Is a considerable village, situated in a thriving agricultural district surrounded by a beautiful and fertile country, under good cultivation. It is at present too far from a Railroad to progress very fast, but offers advantages to all requiring healthy quiet homes. No doubt as the world proceeds, there will come a time when a branch railway will be demanded for the accommodation of the increased numbers and increased productions of the country. In the mean time the inhabitants have supplied themselves with schools, churches and social institutions, for the comfort, advantage, and social enjoyment of their families.

CHENEY'S GROVE.

P. O. Cheney's Grove.

L. N. BISHOP, Postmaster.

It is said that "Saybrook is situated in the centre of this grove of timber, consisting of about 4,000 acres, on the head waters of the Sangamon River, and that they have the best stock in the county. The Grove takes its name from Jonathan Cheney, who is still living near here. It is about twenty-six miles from Bloomington, has one school house and a Methodist Church.

Post Offices, { Wilkesborough — JAMES O. BARNARD, Postmaster.
 { Stouts Grove — ISRAEL W. HALL, Postmaster.

The village of Stouts Grove, or Concord, is located in a dense farming district, and possesses every requisite for comfort and progress; there are several Stores, a considerable population, one District School House and one Methodist Episcopal Church, with a flourishing Society. The Church is situate on the South side of the Public Square.

Wilkesborough is another small village in this township—ten miles from Bloomington—beautifully located on an eminence surrounded with undulating prairies and settled densely with an industrious, enterprising people. The State Road from Bloomington to Peoria passes through it, and it claims to be one of the most pleasant and healthy locations in the State. There is one School House—no Church at present.

LEXINGTON.

In addition to the town of Lexington, (given in another place,) in this Township, there is also the VILLAGE of PLEASANT HILL, which is beautifully situated on the north side of the Mackinaw Grove and river, about three miles southeast of Lexington. Sometimes it is called Selma, which is the name of the post office. It is surrounded by one of the richest portions of the country, much of it well improved. The place contains about 250 inhabitants. Here, also, are three churches—one Presbyterian, one Methodist, and one United Brethren. There is, also, a very nice two story frame District School House, designed for the use of graded schools; also, two Hotels, various stores, and workshops for different trades, and it is confidently expected to grow into importance in due course of time.

Post Office, Selma.

Wm. Mitchell, Postmaster.

MOUNT HOPE.

McLEAN village is situated in this Township, and is a rising place pleasantly situated on the St. Louis, A. & C. R. R., about twelve miles South of Bloomington. It possesses several good stores and some very nice residences. The Railroad have a passenger and freight depot; and the district is well settled and cultivated. There are many new buildings in contemplation, and no doubt this place will eventually become a place of considerable trade in produce and merchandise. Farmers and others will find this location worth their attention, for farms and residences.

CHICAGO ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE Compiler of this Directory respectfully begs to solicit the notice of Business Houses in Bloomington, Lexington, and other towns in McLean County, to the following advertisements of Wholesale Houses in Chicago, in behalf of whom it may be truly said, there are none more respectable in the various lines of their business in this City; and a visit is respectfully solicited from any business man having occasion to go to Chicago to purchase goods.

We would say to the Tin-Plate Workers that they are under great obligation to T. S. DICKERSON, the large Importer of Tin Plates, Copper, &c., for the reduction in prices, since his heavy stock has been established at No. 45 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, where the trade will find it to their advantage to buy as occasion may require.

We might also justly speak of FAIRBANKS' SCALES, but their reputation is so well and widely known that it will be hardly deemed necessary.

CORL, FABIAN & Co. are a rising house for High Wines, Champhene, Fluid, &c., and will make it worth buyers' while to call.

DAVIS, SAWYER & Co. are a large Wholesale Dry Goods House of long-standing. D. T. HALE, a good manufacturing Chair Maker and other cabinet ware. WHITE, THOMAS & Co., splendid plain and ornamental plasterers, doing work in country as well as city, their work being greatly admired; they are open for contract of any kind of work required. HORACE WARREN'S Western Machinery Depot is well worth a visit to those requiring machinery. WILSON is a first rate bookbinder.

SLOAN'S COLLEGE, (formerly Bell & Sloan), in Methodist Church Block, is worthy the attention of young men desirous of learning how to keep a set of books by double entry, either for themselves or others; and there is nothing besides in comparison, that renders a young man so useful to himself or his employers. This College is the oldest in the West, and possesses the greatest facility for study, while Mr. Sloan is so thoroughly competent as an instructor, so excellent a lecturer, and so sound and thorough in his course of study, that young men cannot fail to become perfect masters of the science, and glad of an opportunity of acquiring knowledge under such a master, while it has the further recommendation of being the cheapest course, which, all will admit, is by no means unimportant to the student.

THE CHICAGO PRESS AND TRIBUNE is a bold, earnest and straight forward Republican paper, devoted to the cause of Freedom, Progress and Reform. It is opposed to the extension of Slavery; it decries the Democratic Dred Scott doctrine—that the Constitution plants slavery in all the Territories; it battles for the freedom of the whole West, and believes it was made to be the happy homes of Free White laborers, and not for the task master or his crouching slave.

The Press & Tribune, as a Commercial paper, is the best one in the whole West. This department alone is worth more to the Merchant, Farmer and Drover than the subscription price.

The Press & Tribune is the best newspaper in the United States, West of New York. Its long and spacious columns are filled with fresh, useful and entertaining matter. No labor or expense is spared to make it a first class paper—the model newspaper of the North West.
